PROFILE

Most growth is not lost in strategy. It is lost between a lead and a follow-up, between a campaign and a counter, between a loyalty program and the person who has to explain it. For 12+ years across LATAM and the Caribbean I have worked in that gap.

My background is in marketing: growth, digital and brand activation for international brands (KLM-Air France, Under Armour, Mattel, Converse, PayPal, Sony) and for small and mid-sized businesses that need to grow with limited resources. I have built loyalty programs with 450,000+ daily active users, run inbound and account-based marketing, and measured results with NPS and brand lift.

What sets me apart is what happens after the campaign. I work alongside sales teams: designing the lead-to-close process, building follow-up routines by call, email and proposal, implementing HubSpot and e-commerce, and training sellers, store teams and key account managers so strategy turns into follow-up and orders. I started in sales at IBM and built my career between corporate roles and agencies I founded, so I understand both a multinational's structure and a small customer's urgency.

Commercial instincts. Marketing rigor. Regional fluency.

THE CUSTOMER JOURNEY IN FOUR MOVES

ACQUIRE	ACTIVATE	RETAIN	DEVELOP
Inbound with HubSpot (Regency Group); ABM for B2B and government accounts (Eurocraft); acquisition strategy for a B2B parts platform	Lead → SQL → close and follow-up systems (Regency, Cochlear); e-commerce and online ordering	Loyalty program with 450K+ daily active users; staff trained on loyalty execution	Webinar pre-sales and online ordering (Under Armour); closing strategy; NPS and brand lift

WHERE I'VE DONE IT

CHALLENGE	WHAT I DID	RESULT
Regency Group — qualified inbound leads, but follow-up was one email every 2–3 weeks	Designed marketing + sales strategy, built the follow-up system, implemented HubSpot, trained sellers on calls, emails and proposals	More prospects; structured multi-touch follow-up
Eurocraft — consultative B2B product, two reps, government clients	Executed ABM; coordinated lead generation with reps in Cayman and Miami	Leads +20%, SQLs +15%
Truck-parts distributor — LATAM workshops and resellers ordering manually	Developed a tailor-made B2B e-commerce platform linked to inventory and warehouse; defined acquisition strategy	Online ordering, including out-of-stock parts; a hire now runs it
Under Armour — 12-day pre-sales window, one in-person meeting	Led pre-sales strategy; moved to recurring webinars and an online ordering platform	Faster purchases; orders up more efficiently
Cochlear — qualified leads not turning into SQLs	Mapped lead → SQL → close; found the bottleneck at the concierge role	Process changes implemented through consulting sessions

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Independent Consultant · Marketing & Business Development

2020 – Present · Panama City / LATAM

- ▶ Help companies design sales processes that fit how they sell, and implement e-commerce: Shopify stores for footwear and apparel, and a large tailor-made B2B parts platform for LATAM trucks, connected to the client's inventory and warehouse, where workshops and resellers order, including parts not in stock. Defined its acquisition strategy; a dedicated hire now runs it.
- ▶ Built the marketing + sales strategy and HubSpot inbound system for Regency Group, and trained sellers on structured follow-up by call, email and proposal.
- ▶ Diagnosed the lead → SQL → close path for Cochlear, finding the bottleneck at the concierge role between Marketing and Sales; led consulting sessions and implementation of the changes.
- ▶ Executed an ABM strategy for Eurocraft (consultative B2B, government clients), coordinating lead generation with reps in Cayman and Miami: leads +20%, SQLs +15%.
- ▶ Trained sales teams on closing strategy (high-ticket clients); designed service and follow-up processes for hospitality clients, including staff training, loyalty rollout and NPS measurement.
- ▶ Run digital brand lift studies; design Go-to-Market strategies (market validation, channel mapping, Joint Plans) for LATAM & Caribbean.
